ACCESSORIES

CASUAL BLOUSES

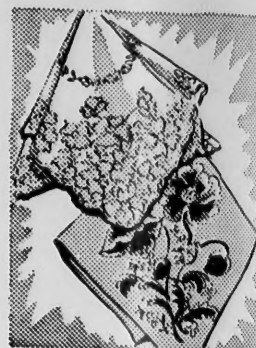

Crepe with action back for that sport costume. Dressy blouse with dainty frills and smart detail for that tailored suit . . . in sheer and multi-filament crepe . . . blue, pink, lilac, and white.

$1.19 to $3.25

Handkerchiefs

Dainty linen handkerchiefs in a galaxy of colorful prints . . . tulips, roses, violets, and lovely spring floral patterns. Select one for your Easter Costume.

25c and 50c ea.

Neckwear

Fluffy neckwear in smart jabots, frilly bows of organdy that just tweak of their crispness. The daintiest of collars and cuffs in beautiful laces . . . Revers that bespeak chic. Neckwear . . . a must for milady . . . a style for every type.

$1.00 to $3.00

Hays-Tyseam

finger free gloves

$3.00 - $5.50

. . . the very newest thing in gloves! Hays-Tyseam is an actual hand-sewn stitch done by a marvelous new machine that improves ordinary handsewing—improves it because the Hays-Tyseam machine requires a strong tough thread that's hard to break. Hays-Tyseam gloves at right are Merry Hull's designed-for-comfort "finger free" slip-ons in white washable English doeskin (lambskin) that can take repeated washings.

Tonight will usher in the final days of the Easter season in Andover's churches. The Baptist, South, West and Free churches will hold their annual Maundy Thursday services at 7.45, with Communion. At 7 there will be Commemoration of the Last Supper at the Cochran chapel, and at 7.45 at Christ church there will be a special service. St. Augustine's church will be open for visitations until nine tonight.

Tomorrow afternoon until three the annual Union Good Friday services will be held at the Cochran chapel with eight local clergymen taking part. Dr. Pfatteicher will give an organ prelude at noon, with Rev. Mr. Baldwin and Rev.

On Easter Sunday all the local churches will have special musical programs at their regular morning services. Christ church will have the full choir at the 7.30 service and also at 11. The 9.45 mass at St. Augustine's will be a solemn high mass with special music and at St. Joseph's in the Vale the mass will be at nine. At the Baptist church service at 10.45 there will be a cantata, "The Risen King."

In the evening at the Free church at 7.30 there will be an Easter consecration service. At six o'clock the Methodist church in the Vale will have an Easter program by the primary department, and at 6.30 there will be a candlelight service at the Union Congregational church.

BALLARDALE CHURCHES

The Ballardvale Methodist and the Union

Congregational churches will both have special music programs at their morning services Sunday. At the latter church the choir will sing an anthem, "Christ Is Risen," by Lorenz, and Mrs. Harry Peat-man will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp. Doctor Alfred Bliss will give the sermon.

CONSECRATION SERVICE

At 7:30 Sunday evening the Durham club of the Free church will hold a Consecration service with the following program: Mary and the Shepherds, The boy Jesus, Nicodemus visits Christ, The Last Supper, Jesus in Prayer, The Cross,

Reappearance of Jesus, "In Remembrance of Me."

The characters: Reader, Margaret Gordon; Mary, Dorothy Paine; Three Shepherds, Marjorie Thompson, Paul Hood, Russell Mac-Leish; Boy Jesus, Robert Moore; Jesus, Alfred Lombard; Nicodemus, Alexander Black.

Disciples: Everett Gorrie, Robert Burnham, Clement Gordon, Grace Stewart, Margaret Cargill, Gladys Munroe, Helen Renny, Barbara Ferrier, Roberta Cilley, John Nell, Catherine Craig, Andrew Hamilton.

CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

Sunday evening at 6:30 there will be a candlelight service in the Union Congregational church, with everyone being given a candle as he enters the church. After the brief address by Dr. Alfred Bliss, the ushers will have their candles lighted by the pastor and they in turn will light the candles of the congregation.

The processional hymn will be "Come Ye Faithful, Raise the Strain." There will be a selection from the cantata, "Easter Hallelujahs," by the choir. The recessional hymn will be "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today."

CHILDREN'S PROGRAM

At ten Sunday morning the Sunday school at the Union Congregational church will present an Easter program of hymns, recitations, readings and songs.

APRIL 12—LECTURE

Dr. George Roemmert will present a very interesting lecture on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Davis Hall. The subject will be "The Struggle of Life and Death in an Unseen World," and along with this lecture Dr. Roemmert will present his Microvivarium.

There will be no admission charge.

APRIL 16—CONCERT

The Annual Spring Concert by the Andover Male Choir which will be held in the Memorial Auditorium on April 16 will feature Gerard Gustav Haft, talented Dutch conductor and cellist, in addition to the Amphion Club of Melrose. Two weeks ago, Mr. Haft distinguished himself by the manner in which he conducted the Beethoven program played by the Lawrence Alumni Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Haft was born in Rotterdam, Holland, and at an early age the 'cello was his chosen instrument. At the age of 11, he began studying under the direction of Holland's most famous 'cellist, Oscar Eberle, a member of the Rotterdam Conservatory of Music. When fifteen, he gave a concert at the Doelen Hall, Rotterdam, and a year later he was awarded the diploma in counterpoint, composition and piano at the Conservatory—an unusual tribute to his musical genius.

Mr. Haft's first engagement with an orchestra was in 1925 when he toured Europe with the ballet orchestra, Pavlova, appearing many times at the Royal Courts.

In 1933, at the age of 26, Mr. Haft was appointed the conductor of the Wassenarsche Orkest Vereeniging at The Hague. Two years later he left in order to associate himself with Professor Bruno Walter, and not long after he was awarded the unusual Mozarteum diploma, making him one of very few to receive this honor.

Gerard Haft will appear as 'cello soloist for the Male Choir and has arranged to play several selections with Miss Marion L. Abbott, who will accompany him at the piano. He will also be one of the trio including George Walton, clarinetist, and Miss Abbott, pianist. Mr. Walton has appeared with the Male Choir in many of its concerts and was, for many years, the soloist for the 5th West Riding Regiment Band of Yorkshire, England, and has played with the Hampton Beach Concert Band for several seasons.

The above talent together with the Amphion Club and the Pynchard High School All Girl Band will provide the music lovers of Andover with an unusual program—the major part of which will feature local talent.

APRIL 17—READING

The White Cliffs of Dover have been memorialized in the now famous poem, The White Cliffs. On Thursday, April 17, the author, Mrs. Alice Duer Miller, has very kindly consented to give a reading of her poem to precede an exhibit and sale of books from Britain, at 8:15 p. m. in George Washington Hall, Phillips Academy.

You are most cordially invited to come to hear Mrs. Miller and to browse around afterwards among the many display tables. The books range from 15 cents to $5.00, including Penguin books at 25 cents and Oxford World Classics at 80 cents; all tastes will be suited in the collection of light fiction and mysteries, classics of art and literature, books on contemporary affairs, for children and grown ups.

All the books are printed in England, and every angle, however small, will help England to keep her White Cliffs as the symbol of the culture and tradition that they have so long stood for. Don't feel that you have to make a big purchase; the smallest sale will be very much appreciated. Buy many books if you can; if not, how about Buying Just One Book?

If you cannot hear Mrs. Miller—and we certainly hope you can—you may still buy a book from the Oliver Wendell Holmes Library where the display will be continued for the three days, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 18, 19, and 20.

Mrs. Cleveland Gilcreast.

MAY 1—MAY BREAKFAST

You can just forget about the percolator and the toaster on the morning of May first, because the Legion auxiliary is fast getting plans under way for the annual May breakfast to be held from 6 to 8 on that date. Tickets will be 25 cents—and you never did see such a breakfast for that price.

Mrs. Barbara Schultz.

MAY 2—ADVENTURERS' PLAY

Imagine it! Mildred Eaton, Dan MacDonnell and Harry Emmons totalling 243 years of existence on this earth of ours! You didn't know Milly, Dan and Harry were each one year over the octogenarian entry mark? Well, they are, or they will be on the night of May 2nd when in the Adventurers' play they become Miss Natica Turner, Martin Turner and Admiral Standish.
Natica—you pronounce it with the accent on the second syllable and the "i" like an "e"—was quite a girl back in the 80's and she and young Standish were passing fond of each other. Trouble was Standish went off on a boat and didn't come back.

Natica lives on the old Turner estate down in Newport, R. I.—you know the old Turner estate, don't you—quite a pretentious layout

that proves a bit of a worry to Natica as she approaches her waning years. After all someone has to take care of an estate after you go—you can't take it with you. Natica has a nephew, Rodney Turner, and she decides to marry him off so that he can take over the estate. And then come the complications.

Steve Whitney will play Rodney Turner and Grace Morin will take the role of Cynthia. Cliff Emmons will serve as boatswain's mate Klatz, and playing opposite him will be Betty Carmichael as Sarah.

The play is entitled "Brief Candles" by Robert Hare Powell. Mrs. William Edwards is directing it.

MAY 9—MONOLOGIST

The Service Club will present an entertainment and dance in the Memorial Auditorium on Friday, May 9, at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the Scholarship Loan Fund. Betty Manning, monologist, of Lawrence, will be the featured entertainer. The Punchard High School Girls' Band will also be on the program and will be followed by dancing to the music of Harold Phinney's recordings.

Students' tickets sell for only 25 cents and adult tickets are 50 cents.

Officer Spots Boys In Theft

The Girl Scout camp at Ponds pond owns a portable phonograph, but it almost didn't. If officer John Deyermond hadn't happened along just when he did Wednesday noon, that portable phonograph might now be playing records at some young male miscreant's home.

Officer Deyermond on checking the camps at the ponds noticed two boys dashing away from the Girl Scout camp. He gave chase, and although they outdistanced him, they had to jettison their booty.

Andover Boy Killed In Air Crash

On April 25th Bob Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Thompson of Hidden Field, was scheduled to receive a second lieutenant's commission in the regular army when he graduated from the Advance School of the Southeast Air Corps Training Center at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala. Last night Bob attempted to bring his plane in at Maxwell Field, ran into difficulty, and bailed out. His parachute failed to open and he plunged to his death.

Bob Thompson born in Andover on October 11, 1917, was very popular with his many friends, both in town, at Phillips Academy and at Yale. He entered the Academy in 1932 and there made for himself an enviable record. He was vice-president of the junior class, twice a member of the varsity football squad, on the business board of the Phillpian and the advisory board, and baseball manager in his senior year. He was a member of PAE.

Only this week it was announced that he had been appointed a cadet captain, commanding a squadron. On January 1 he had been appointed a cadet lieutenant. He had looked forward to being assigned to a bombardment squadron in the West following his graduation at the end of this month.

Textile Exhi

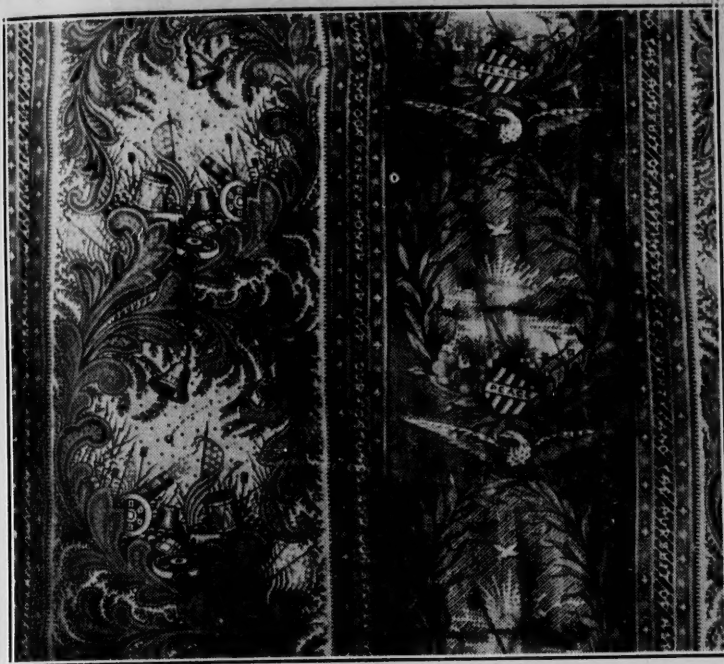

"Decorative Textiles" of the exhibition which has been seen at the Andover Art Association. This exhibition is one of the most interesting and particular interest of the community of Ponds pond. It includes samples from three centuries in date from the 18th to the 19th centuries and shows a variety of textile designs. There are designs printed by machine and hand printed with both illustrations and abstract patterns.

The earliest pieces of the exhibition were made at the end of the 18th century. They are printed cottons with historical subjects and "Toiles de Jouy" or "Jouy", named for the town where they were first made. This period trade between France and America was a French designers. Americans might want fabrics for chair covers, curtains which were printed with historical scenes of the American Revolution. The material proved popular that before long they were made in England and America. Samples of types which have been made by Mrs. Agnes J. H. York, make up a part of the exhibition at the Andover Art Association. Furniture owned by Andover has generously loaned to the Gallery to form these interesting and cottons.

Examples of what may be obtained by a day painter or sculptor in collaboration with a manufacturer can be seen in the second group of the exhibition. Here are samples of and brocaded damasks which were common contemporary artists. Sundour Company weavers. These manufacturers tried to avoid the old motifs which will be products with a variety of designs.

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

Textile Exhibit at Addison Gallery

"Decorative Textiles" is the title of the exhibition which may now be seen at the Addison Gallery. This exhibition is one of a series arranged by the Gallery for the particular interest of the industrial neighborhood as well as of the community of Phillips Academy. It includes samples of fabrics from three countries ranging in date from the 18th to the 20th centuries and shows the wide variety of textile design during this period. There are designs made by machine and hand, woven and printed with both illustrative and abstract patterns.

The earliest pieces in the exhibition were made in France at the end of the 18th century. They are printed cottons with American historical subjects and are called "Toiles de Jouy" or cloth from Jouy, named for the town in which they were first manufactured. At this period trade between France and America was growing, and French designers realized that Americans might well purchase fabrics for chair coverings and curtains which were printed with historical scenes of their country. The material proved to be so popular that before long copies of it were made in England and later in America. Samples of all these types which have been assembled by Mrs. Agnes J. Holden of New York, make up a part of the exhibition at the Addison Gallery. Furniture owned by residents of Andover has generously been lent to the Gallery to form a setting for these interesting antique printed cottons.

Examples of what fine results may be obtained when the present day painter or sculptor is working in collaboration with a textile manufacturer can be seen in the second group of fabrics in the "Decorative Textile" Exhibition. Here are samples of linen, chintz, and brocaded damask with designs which were commissioned from contemporary artists by Morton Sundour Company, Edinburgh weavers. These manufacturers have tried to avoid the commercial rut of designing and create original motifs which will enliven their products with a vitality and individuality of pattern usually sought for only by hand weavers. To realize how very successful they have been in this enterprise, one has only to see the group of gay and delightful fabrics which has been lent to the Addison Gallery by Miss Elleen-Holding of New York, one of the designers.

Contemporary hand-woven and hand-printed textiles comprise the remaining part of the present exhibit. These pieces have been collected from all over the United States and show the variety and similarity of workmanship in this folk art. They are all utilitarian pieces and range from table covers and couch throws to brightly colored scarfs and handbags. Those interested in hand weaving would surely be interested in the variety of patterns and weaving among these articles lent to the Addison Gallery by Miss Lou Tate of Louisville, Ky., who has assembled the collection.

A few decorated textiles, hand-printed from linoleum blocks by the able craftsmen of the Folly Cove Designers at Gloucester, may also be seen in this exhibition.

Although the Addison Gallery is not open in the evening it is open every week-day free from 9 until 5 and on Sundays from 12 until 1 and from 2:30 until 5. The present exhibition will continue until May 5th.

Start Work On Draper Hall Wing

Ground was broken this week for a new three-story wing to be added to Draper Hall. The plan calls for the eventual shortening and reduction in height of the old wing to match the new. The new wing, containing library, recreation rooms, and students rooms, and the new dining-room, which is to be a 1-story-high room connecting the two wings and forming the fourth side of a quadrangle, are expected to be completed by the time school opens again next fall. These additions and changes are made possible by the Second Century Fund which the school launched on its Centennial in 1938. Although the Fund is not large enough to cover all the plans proposed, it is hoped that additional gifts will make possible eventually the completion of the architect's plans. J. Radford Abbot is the architect for this new development and Horne Brothers of Boston are the contractors.

Memorial Library Curtails Hours

Until further notice the Boys' and Girls' Room at the Memorial Hall Library will close on Fridays at 6 o'clock and the chorus of service at the Junior High School will be cut from five and one-half hours daily to four and at the Senior High School Library from two daily to one and one-half. These curtailments, voted by the Trustees of the Memorial Hall Library, will result, it is felt, in a better rounded program of library service. Increased use of the library and greater extension of its services without a corresponding increase in library staff have made these readjustments essential. It is hoped that these curtailments will be temporary.

The Silversmith and his Craft

"How" is your silver made?

"How" did Paul Revere fashion his famous spoons and bowls?

"How" has silversmithing maintained its craftsmanship in this industrial age?

These and many other questions are answered by this fascinating exhibit now on display. Arranged by the century-old firm of silversmiths, Reed & Barton, this remarkable series of photographs and actual pieces of silver in the process of construction brings to you the story of your own silverware. More than that, a visit to this exhibit will give you a real first-hand knowledge of the skill, the craft, and the patience that go into every spoon and every bowl. Such arts as "spinning," "chasing," "embossing," and "hammering" are revealed in detail.

Through the courtesy of Reed & Barton in cooperation with this store, this fascinating display may be seen during the balance of this month.

ABBOT ACTIVITIES

Davis Hall will be the scene on Saturday morning of the annual basketball clash between the Gargoyle and the Griffin teams. The following players will participate in the first team game:

Gargoyles: Josephine Hartwell, Elizabeth Lytle, Marilyn Manschik, Gretchen Roemer, Adeline Waterhouse, Ann Zeitung.

Griffins: Mary Bertucio, Miriam Calder, Marjorie Hamilton, Dorothy Harvey, Honora Haynes, Eleanor Knox.

On Monday the spring sports schedule will be launched with riding, baseball and tennis as major sports, and deck tennis, badminton, ping pong and archery as minor sports.

The traditional Easter service will be held in Davis Hall at 7:30 on Sunday evening, with all the academic classes and the Fidelio Society participating. The speaker of the evening will be Dr. Vivian T. Pomeroy of Milton. Friends of the school are cordially invited to this impressive service and are reminded that it is not an annual event because Easter Sunday often occurs during the spring vacation.

Praises Physical Education Supervisor

Donald D. Dunn, physical education supervisor in the local public schools, will attend the National Convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation at Atlantic City on April 30th and May 1st. He will take a prominent part in the series of meetings to be conducted by the North American Physical Fitness Institute in conjunction with the convention.

In requesting Supt. Sherman to allow Mr. Dunn to attend the meeting, Frederick Rand Rogers of the Institute wrote the following tribute to Mr. Dunn's work in the local schools:

"Your Mr. Donald Dunn is one of the most efficient physical fitness workers in the nation today—where this quality of character is of paramount importance for national safety. We greatly need his services in Atlantic City, to inform some hundreds of physical directors, nurses, professors and others on best techniques to meet the physical needs of pupils, students and workers in industry. You will, we are certain, confer a favor on the delegates to the convention by enabling Mr. Dunn to attend and assist in our meetings."

P. T. A. Conference Here April 22

Mrs. Joseph Gagne and the members of the Andover Council are in charge of the hospitality and general arrangements of the spring conference, to be held April 22, of the forty-seven Parent-Teacher Associations and four councils which constitute District 6 of the Massachusetts Parent-Teacher Association. The afternoon session will be held in the music room of the Junior High School; the evening program will be in the Memorial Auditorium. Supper will be served at 5:30. Delegates and anyone else desiring supper reservations are asked to notify Mrs. Nowell Kinney, William street; Mrs. A. E. Knowles, Johnson Acres, or Mrs. Robert Mitchell, Ballardvale.

Impromptu Dumps

Do you remember how very inauspiciously that garbage disposal article was disposed of at the annual town meeting? And do you remember how little discussion there was before the town's approval was given to the purchase of a waste disposal area, alias dump, in West Andover?

Don't you think that there could well have been more discussion on that first article? We don't mean that the town should have decided to appropriate the large sum asked for garbage collection, but certainly the problem deserves further study. If you keep your eyes open as you go around town, haven't you noticed an impromptu, unofficial dump here and there? Drive along Red Spring road, for instance, and what do you see? Right along the roadside, enough people have gotten into the habit of using that section as a dump to make it look pretty disreputable. Certainly if the people in that section find the present High street dump too far away, the majority of people in town will find the new Greenwood road dump entirely out of the question. Red Spring road is much nearer the High street dump than the center of population is to the Greenwood road dump, much nearer.

Some of the residents along High street were glad of the decision to move the dump because frequently they saw people apparently headed for the dump toss out their rubbish along the roadside without bothering to go the half mile or so further to the official dump. In not too distant years, there was a place just north of the Walnut street intersection with High street, near the present entrance to Flint circle, that was used as a dump by people who didn't want to continue for the next half a mile.

Now what's going to happen with the dump way out in West Andover? Between the town's center and the official waste disposal area there are going to be lots of little dumps, with cans strewn along the roadside here and there, if past experience is any criterion. That is neither healthy nor does it add to the town's beauty.

And yet, this much is obvious: in one sense the new location is an excellent one. It is far enough from the center of population to prevent its being a nuisance as the present one has been to the High street, Burnham road and Carmel road people, and it is a sizeable enough hole to take care of the town's rubbish for decades to come. But if it means the townspeople will be reluctant to go that distance, something has to be done. Obviously, the best solution is town collection of rubbish, and that is why it really is unfortunate that the garbage disposal article was so summarily dealt with. That problem and the rubbish problem must be studied very, very carefully before next town meeting so that in some way the people of our town can have the same services that have come to be pretty much accepted municipal duties in other communities.

Burning Your Grass?

You people who are burning over your lawns and fields, you're costing us money. The fire department was kept on the run most of this week mainly because of grass fires. Most of them were started by people who were just going to burn over part of their grounds, but soon the fires were beyond control and the fire department had to be called. The chances are that it won't cause you much damage; you'll get your place burned over and have the fire department control it for you. But it does cost our taxpayers money for every one of those calls. So be pretty sure that you'll be able to keep your burn-over operations within control before you start them.

Operetta Presented By Children

Mary Hargedon was the announcer.

FRONT COVER

For the first time since its disastrous fire in January, the Free church was available again for services last Sunday morning. The front cover photo this week was taken at the first service by Donald Look from the same position that Donald Surette snapped the fire picture which served as the cover after the blaze. The comparison is interesting if you still have that copy.

The formal dedication services will be held at the morning service on Sunday, April 20. On Wednesday evening, April 23, the Woman's Alliance will serve a home coming turkey supper in the primary room.

Clubs

SERVICE CLUB will hold its next meeting on April 10 at 6:15 at the Square and Compass Club. Walter M. Lamont, agent of the Wood Worsted Mills for many years, will be the guest speaker talking on the subject of "The Textile Business."

MOTHERS' CLUB will have no meeting this week, but next Thursday, April 17, they will conduct a beano party at the home of Mrs. George Symonds, Summer street. The following committee will be in charge: Mrs. William Coupe, Mrs. Annie P. Davis, and Mrs. Charlotte Collins.

On April 24 they will hold their monthly dinner, place to be announced later; and on May 1 they will hold a beano at the home of Mrs. Emile R. Dufresne, 5 Brechin terrace. Mrs. Alexander Crockett, Mrs. Henry Albers, Mrs. Carrie Buchanan and Mrs. James Feeney will be in charge.

BLESSED VIRGIN MARY SOCIETY will hold its annual meeting on Monday, April 14 at 7:30.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS will hold their next meeting on April 16 at 12:30 at the Log Cabin. It will be in the form of a picnic outing and the board of directors have devised a plan to make the League's newer members acquainted with each other and with the entire group. Each one of the board will invite one or two of the more recent members and take a lunch sufficient for them. In this way it is hoped to make an informal good time for all.

The speaker will be Mrs. Donald Hurley, president of the Boston league, who will talk on "The League and National Defense." She has been interested for a long time in Federal Housing in Boston and has made a place for herself in the actual development of these plans.

For transportation please call Mrs. John Little, 1147.

BRITISH WAR VETERANS will meet Friday evening at 7:30 for a short business meeting, after which they will meet the combined teams of the Clan and the Arbroath association in indoor baseball, bowling and forty-fives. Refreshments will be served.

Fire Department Has Busy Week

It's been a busy week for the fire department. In fact the fire alarm was called into service so many times that at one period it up and quit.

Most of the fires were set. Two fires in buildings are believed by officials to have been incendiary, while in a number of cases the department was called to extinguish grass fires caused when burning-over operations got out of control.

On Sunday evening an estimated $2000 damage was caused by a fire in a portion of a large barn on the Smith Burton place on Elm street. Most of the damage was in the interior of a section formerly used to house farmhands. Investigation showed some papers and burnt matches in a silo, apparently from an attempt by some boys a few days before to set a fire, and it is believed that the boys may have been responsible for the second successful incendiary attempt.

Tuesday afternoon the camp near Lowell Junction owned by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moody of Andover street was totally destroyed. It was believed also that this was set. Ballardvale had another fire last Friday afternoon when the roof of Ralph Sharpe's house was damaged. Monday afternoon Kenneth Thompson of Gould road lost 80 chickens and a coop when a brush fire spread.

Other alarms during the week were:

Last Thursday: 11.25 a. m., still, grass fire, Mr. Mercer's, Woodland road; 11.30, box 4, grass fire, Mr. Shattuck's, Whittier court; 2.45 p. m., oil truck, by-pass.

Friday: 8.30 a. m., still, grass, F. M. and T. E. Andrews', Burnham road; 1.30 p. m., box 4, Garabedian's, Chandler road; 3.05 p. m., still, grass, Shawsheen Realty, Dumbarton street; 8.40 p. m., box 4, grass, McDonald's piggery, off Woburn street.

Saturday: 10.10 a. m., box 4, grass, Argilla road; 10.12 a. m., still, grass, Fleming avenue; 10.20 a. m., box 63, Mr. Barrett's grape vine, Burnham road; 11.30 a. m., grass, 67 Salem street; 12 m., box 4, grass, Sutherland street; 12.20, still, grass, opposite J. Stanley, Andover street.

Monday: 2.05 p. m., still, grass, rear 28 Riverina road; 2.20 p. m., box 4, brush, off Ferndale avenue; 4.20 p. m., box 75, barn and grass at Urnstron's, Chandler road; 4.55 p. m., still, grass off Enmore street; 5.05 p. m., still, calling another truck to Urnstron's.

"Yes, I saw him in the Brown's yard"

It's not surprising that a mother stops the Hoodman to ask if he's seen little Johnnie, because the Hoodman knows the children along his route. He's pretty apt to know where they're playing too.

It's just one of those little things that makes the Hoodman "more than the milkman"—one of those things that makes Hood service friendly and dependable. And likewise, it's the knowledge that his customers have confidence in him that makes his daily job more pleasant.

HOOD'S MILK

H. P. Hood & Sons—a New England institution, owned and operated by New England people, serving New England farmers and New England consumers by distributing the product of the one group to the table of the other.

DEATHS

On Saturday night, John Poland passed away at his home, 68 Whittier street. He was born in Arbrogath, Scotland, 59 years ago, but had lived in Andover for many years. He leaves five sisters, Miss Jean Poland, Miss Helen Poland, Mrs. George Bailey and Mrs. James C. Souter of Andover, and Mrs. Catherine Bickell of Lawrence; and two brothers, James and William Poland of Andover.

Funeral services were held at the home Tuesday afternoon by Rev. Herman C. Johnson of the Free church, of which Mr. Poland was a member. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Death came tragically early this week to Mrs. Florence M. Burns, who was found by police Tuesday night dead of asphyxiation by illuminating gas at her home on Chester street, Ballardvale. She had returned to the Vale Sunday night after spending the winter in Manchester, N. H., and it is believed that the gas in the house was turned on without anyone suspecting that a jet in the kitchen was open. Neighbors who noticed an electric lamp burning in the kitchen for two days reported the matter to Chief Dane.

Mrs. Burns was born in Nova Scotia 59 years ago, and had lived here for thirty years. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Christine Forsythe of Manchester, N. H.; two brothers, Dr. C. H. MacRury of Manchester, and Bernard MacRury of Saskatchewan, Canada; and a sister, Mrs. Annie Townsend of Jamaica Plain.

Funeral services will be held at the Lundgren funeral home tomorrow morning at 9:30, burial following in St. Augustine's cemetery.

Another former resident of the town passed away in West Medford Sunday. James A. Frazer, 72, was born in Manchester, N. H., but had lived here as a boy and young man. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in West Medford, burial being in Oak Grove cemetery.

Funeral services for Henry Patterson who died at his home in Boston Friday morning were held

Present Diplomas In Adult Courses

A large number of diplomas and certificates were presented at the closing exercises of the Andover Adult Education courses in the Memorial Auditorium last Thursday evening. Rev. Clinton W. Carvell of North Andover, a member of the school committee there, gave an address on "The Right to Live." Superintendent Sherman presented the diplomas.

A very interesting program was presented in conjunction with the exercises. It included a playlet, "The Constitution Comes to Life," and a spinning wheel tableau, "Au Clair De La Lune." Two original essays were read, one by Mrs. Annie Dantos on "American Ideals," and another by Mrs. Phyllis Henderson on "What American Citizenship Means to Me." Miss Helen Mararian delivered a poem, "Old Glory," and Victor Van Schelt sang a Flemish song, "Thanks to the President."

The following took part in the tableau: Mrs. Bernard, at the spinning wheel; Mrs. Noel, Mrs. Doucette, Mrs. Gaudet, Mrs. Joseph Richard, Mrs. Angeline Richard, Mrs. Mary G. Peters and Mrs. Irene Christy.

Citizenship diplomas: Annie Dantos, Bruno Gaudet, Clara Gaudet, Henry Gaudette, Victoria Gaudette, Elizabeth Goguen, Caroline Martin, George Majaukas, Napoleon Noel, Madeline Richard, Mary Van Schelt, Victor Van Schelt, Frank Ward, Albert Washington.

State certificates: Stanislaw Chlebowsky, Jacqueline Gaudet, Rose Jacobson, Elizabeth Krikorian, Consettina Magnano, Stephanie Majaukas, Fridolene Reymann, Magdalene Skulski, Charlotte van de Poorten, Catherine Yaghmoorian.

Andover Evening school certificates: Anna Baduvakis, Margaret Bernard, Irene Christy, Catherine Doucette, Joseph Fillion, Henry Gallant, Raymond Gaudet, James Goudin, Jenny Goudin, Helen Mararian, Peter Mararian, Annie Marudzinski, Elias Nicholas, Marie Noel, Louise Pothier, Mary Peters, Mary G. Peters, Angeline Richard, Joseph Richards, Elizabeth Ross, Mabel Washington.

Perfect attendance: Clara Gaudet, Mary Noel, Angeline Richard, Napoleon Noel, Elizabeth Cogen.

Morrissey Retires From Taxi Business

Walter J. Morrissey this week retired from the taxi business after having served the town of Andover for 34 years. He will devote all his time hereafter to the management of his new cafe on Park street.

Paul Collins will take over the business, and George Lawrence, who has been driving for Mr. Morrissey for over 20 years, will continue for Mr. Collins. The large garage used by the taxi company, however, will be used by the Coca-Cola company for a storehouse.

In announcing his retirement from the taxi business, Mr. Morrissey expressed his sincere thanks to the people of Andover and to the two academies for their generous patronage in the past.

Bread and Humanity Uprooted" has brought to tragic but noble life the problem of the Czech people under their recent collapse.

"No Stone Unturned" (Lawrence.) The refusal of a victim of the depression to face the serious truth of problems brings the natural consequences of evasion, and affects the lives of his entire family.

New mysteries:

"Speak No Evil" (Eberhart)

"Murder Masks Miami" (King)

"Holiday Homicide" (King)

"Versailles Twenty Years After" (Birdsall). This book explains carefully the disaster brought about by several nations trying to secure self-gains contrary to the intention and purpose of the Versailles Treaty. There is also a discussion of the future problems to be settled at the end of the second World War.

Recent western stories: (Young)

"Red Clarke, Range Boss"

"Red Clarke On the Border"

"Red Clarke Rides Alone"

"Red Clarke, Two-gun Man"

"The Streak" (Brand)

"Sons of the Others" (Gibbs). An old fashioned treatment of the beginning of the recent war, and an excellent interpretation of the hopelessness of any battle in which the unarmed and unprepared try to resist mechanized warfare.

"The Silent Drum" (Swanson). The dissension of Frontier Pennsylvania in the 1760's is the theme of this adventure which carries on the lives of people already begun in The Judas Tree.

"The Donkey Inside" (Bemelmans). A caricature of Latin America, mostly about Ecuador, in which the author paints a vivid amusing sketch of the people and their way of living.

"Ambassador Dodd's Diary" (Dodd). Chosen as Ambassador to Germany in 1933 because of his historical knowledge and liberal attitudes, Dodd recorded his convictions that there could be no attempt to improve relationships with such men as those in power in Germany.

"Entertaining Is Fun!" (Draper). Every angle of entertaining is covered in a fresh and somewhat chatty manner. This is a book for the modern woman, and is prepared along the same lines as the author's earlier "Decorating is Fun."

Alert Sergeant Catches Criminal

If Sergeant Ray Hickey is sporting a new hat on Easter Sunday, you should look at it to see if there's a new feather in his cap. He has a right to wear it, because last Friday he picked up a man that the police of the state of Michigan and the cities of Providence, R. I., Lawrence, Brighton, Brockton, Malden, Arlington, Woburn and Lynn had been looking for. Also Mrs. Frank Humphreys' Easter bonnet might be feather-bedecked too, for she had left the Andover Coal office to notify police when Sergeant Hickey spotted the man.

The man gave the name of Paul Murray of Dorchester. Police officials of Michigan, from whose state prison he escaped last year, know him as Schuyler R. Rossman; in other places he is known by other names. However, in all places his fingerprints were the same.

The man dropped into the Andover Coal company office Friday and ordered a ton of coal to be delivered to an address on Shepley street. He offered a check in payment, which strangely enough was in excess of the cost of the coal. Strangely enough, too, the check was not accepted, nor was the order. He left the office and walked through the square. Sergeant Hickey saw him, recalled a description received from an alert coal company clerk in Lawrence, and immediately took him into custody. Chief Dane fingerprinted him, and in not too long a time, phones were ringing, telegraph wires were buzzing, and Mr. Murray had been identified. He'll be in Lawrence court tomorrow. Some day he's going back to Michigan, too.

The Cross Coal Company office in Lawrence had notified its local clerk that a man was practicing a check-passing game in coal offices, and she in turn had passed on the very excellent description to Mrs. Humphreys. After the man left the office, Mrs. Humphreys came out to look for the officer in the square, and Sergeant Hickey spotted her and the man at the same time to put two and two together very nicely.
